Elvira Project

The goal of the Elvira Project is to complete the restoration of the 1906 P-Class sailboat built by Gil Smith of Patchogue New York. Elvira has been placed on the New York State Historic Register and on the National Register of Historic Places.

Elvira will sail as a "living museum" and provide educational opportunities in the area of environmental education, historic preservation and the history of sailing on the Great South Bay.

For more info on Elvira's history and the restoration to date, visit www.carmansrivermaritime.org
